THE MUTUAL FRIEND. Moulton Defeated in his Attempt to Tak Possassion of the Sprague Estate. PROVIDENCE, Aug. 30 .- Another shot-gun episode at Canonchet to-day is the town talk. Ten days since Frances D. Moulton bought the place. According to the terms of the sale this was the day for Trustee Chaffee to deliver to him the property. This morning the trustee and Mr. Parkhurst went down to take possession. On approaching Canonchet, however, it was discovered that a signal flag was flying from the main tower, and that an armed sentry was pacing to and fro on the turret, carrying a rifle over his shoulder. They arrived at Canonchet and Mr. Moulton soon accompanied them with a friend of his, Mr. Cunningham. On arriving at the gate where the auction sale was held the party were met by three men, who refused them admittance to the grounds. In the centre of the road, across the bridge, was Willie Sprague and a man, each mounted on a horse and holding a "shellalah." Men were pacing backward and forward about the extensive grounds, each carrying a The armed sentinel on the tower was watching the attacking party, and appeared to be acting as chief sentinel on the guard. Now and then could be heard the report of a ritle. There seemed to be a code of signals. The three men at the outer gate denied that they were acting as keepers under the United States marshal's attachment. They stated that they were in the employ of the governor, and were simply obeying his commands, which were to exclude anybody from the grounds of Canonchet, no matter who he was. The guard said that the house was well protected, and any one who attempted to enter the premises or trespass would be sarry for it. Mr. Chaffee called Willie Sprague up to his earringe, saving: "Helto, Willie; you have not for gotten me, have you?" Willie replied, "No, I have not. I should not think that I would." The boy was then "filestioned as fol-"What are your orders?" sked "To keep everyone off the place." "Supposing we go on the grounds what will be the consequences?" "You will rue it if you do," "Have you got any Gattling guns up there?" asked Mr. Parkhurst. "We have got everything we need." was the hal's reply. "How many men have you on the place?" naked Chaffee, "Oh, we have gos enough to take Mr. Moulton wan ed to know if he could go on the grounds, but was answered in the negative. The attacking party then agreed that it would be langerous and unwise to a tempt in invade the fortified premises, and to cordingly withdrew, Mr. Chaffer as he shall now lot the law take its course. Mr. Moulton has tendered Mr. Chaffee the cosh for the property, but the latter did not accept it, because he could make no delivery. He did not intend to forsake his claim, and would stand by his purchase. The public are looking for the next move with considerable interest. COMMERCIAL. COMMERCIAL NEWS.
